WILDLIFE PHOTOGRAPHY TWO WEEK EXPERIENCE

IN THE GREATER KRUGER, SOUTH AFRICA

THE NEXT STEP

Take your photography skills to the next level with an action packed project designed for those wanting to take the next big step into the world of wildlife photography!

There's plenty of time out in the field, including visits to various game reserves with the opportunity to photograph the Big Five and much more.

The emphasis is on ethical and responsible photography; how we interact with nature and how to use our images to aid and support the needs of our local research projects and conservation initiatives.

With a dedicated field guide and specially designed presentations, your knowledge will grow exponentially and will feed directly into your photography.

For a more intimate, focused and comfortable experience for all, we believe a medium sized group is best so we max out at six people – so make sure to act quickly to guarantee your space!

Just remember to bring plenty of memory cards and spare batteries!

WHAT'S ON OFFER

From giant elephants and iconic predators to vibrant birds and beautiful insects, you'll be in the best position to photograph Africa's most iconic and overlooked species. Night drives bring the opportunity to photograph the milky way and puts the spotlight on finding nocturnal species; a tough but rewarding challenge!

A whole day is spent exploring the famous Kruger National Park, and two nights will have you falling asleep to the sounds of the wild in our new bush camp set in the middle of a wild game reserve.

You'll visit one of our partnering organisations, a local reptile park, where you'll interact and photograph beautiful and exciting reptiles up close and personal in ways only possible here!

Accommodation is at Dumela Lodge, sitting just outside of Hoedspruit and surrounded by nature reserves. Your stay includes:

- Two people per room
- Air-conditioning
- Meals (some meals outside the lodge not included)
- Pool access
- Optional Wi-Fi
- Optional Laundry

"A photographers dream, action packed, knowledge and skill based coaching, and a great place to spend two weeks." – Steve Pugh
